Hyatt Siesta Key Beach

'The Key' to a perfect vacation

A first glance of the new Hyatt Siesta Key Beach, a Hyatt Residence Club in Sarasota, Florida, tells visitors this is special. Fronting a wide stretch of legendary, pure white sand, this exclusive enclave envelops guests with an amazing combination of luxury, hospitality and natural beauty.

But the experience of visiting this slice of paradise begins even before your arrival with a welcome letter and phone call from the resort's concierge team to learn about special occasions or requests that will make each stay an experience to remember, says resort manager Edward Braunlich.

Thus, armed with flight and arrival details, perhaps including grocery provisioning to stock the guestroom kitchen and pantry, the resort's staff is ready to welcome you in grand style, beginning with valet parking, a chilled glass of citrus water in the beautiful Owner's Club reception area, a personal resort tour and, of course, an escort to the luxurious accommodations.

"We feel that first impression creates the basis for your whole stay," he says.

And what a stay it is. The six-story beach-front residence club features 44 exclusive two-bedroom units ranging from 1,865 to nearly 3,000 square feet, each offering an expansive

The Star at Northstar-At-Tahoe

The rugged Sierra Nevada Mountains once were a formidable barrier to the Forty-niners and others seeking their fortunes in California's Gold Rush, forcing them to swing north to Oregon or south to Arizona in their quest to reach the Golden State.

Little did they realize in the 1860s when the transcontinental railroad breached the high mountain passes at Truckee, Calif., that this would be no mere whistle stop. Someday, the Lake Tahoe area would become an iconic destination for world-class skiing and mountain sports, boating and river rafting, history, culture, casino gaming and excitement.

Today, over 3 million people visit the Lake

Tahoe area each year to enjoy its pristine environment and abundant outdoor adventures.

Halfway between Truckee and the north shore of Lake Tahoe is the exclusive Northstar-At-Tahoe Village, home to Northstar Lodge, one of America's premier resorts and a Hyatt Residence Club destination.

Over the last several years, Northstar-At-Tahoe has transformed into a spectacular year-round destination providing guests with world-class ski-in/ski-out access during the winter months and biking, golfing, shopping, horseback riding, swimming, tennis, whitewater rafting and fishing during the summer, says

Northstar Lodge offers 34 luxury units, including 10 fractional and 24 full ownership units. Each fractional share includes 18 days divided between one fixed week in the unit of purchase and 11 floating days. For more information, call (530) 550-2030.

terrace to enjoy panoramic gulf or village views.

Each dwelling wraps guests in luxury, including custom-designed mahogany furnishings, fully equipped kitchens with quartz countertops and ultra-high-end appliances, washer/dryer, flat-screen TVs, Blu-ray DVD player, Bose Stereo system and more.

UPSCALE AMENITIES

“Every room offers a unique configuration. It’s a continued delight,” the resort manager adds, including such amenities as Kohler jetted tubs (“like sitting in a bottle of champagne”), rainforest misting showers, upscale linens, flatware and china and much more.

Guests also have use of an owners’ lounge, a fitness center offering locker areas with men’s and women’s steam room and massage treatment room, plus a beachfront oasis featuring a jetted waterfall spa, sunset fire pit and a magnificent pool lined by cabanas. Continental breakfast is offered daily and there also is a poolside lunch spot.

More than equal to the luxurious amenities is the attentive service of the resort’s staff, which likes to keep things “simple, yet refined,” says resort manager Braunlich.

For a recent 60th birthday celebration, the resort’s concierge team arranged a private yacht sail followed by an in-room, chef-prepared gourmet dinner. They even found a special piece of locally made jewelry to commemorate the day.

The resort’s team often arranges special itineraries and the in-room preparation of gourmet fare for weddings, anniversaries and special occasions, or as an alternative to dining in one of Sarasota’s superb restaurants.

The resort’s concierge team also offers an endless stream of recommendations to help members and guests make the most of each day. From a dawn-to-dusk golf outing, to a bicycle tour of the local village, to a beach stroll to observe sea turtle hatchlings, the resort staff is always on the lookout for the best that Sarasota has to offer.

“It’s the small touches that make each vacation unique,” the resort manager says. “The #1 thing we hear in feedback from owners and guests is the outstanding service we give,” he says.

Northstar Lodge

Megan Kunkel, resort manager at Northstar Lodge.

The 3,000-acre Northstar-At-Tahoe resort features 2,280 vertical feet of downhill terrain accessed by 19 lifts, a snowmaking system, a cross-country center, and extensive summer activities in the form of an 18-hole golf course and a lift-served mountain bike park.

SHOP AND DINE

The Northstar Village also is a great place to shop and dine or view the latest in art, jewelry and fashion. A 9,000-square-foot skating rink offers the perfect ending to a day on the mountains, including a hot toddy, mulled cider or s’mores by the outdoor fire pits surrounding the rink.

“With the completion of the ski gondola last year (attached to Northstar Lodge), the ski valet and all the activities in the village this is truly an amazing product,” resort manager Kunkel says.

Mingling with ponderosa pines in a coveted slope-side location, Northstar Lodge offers luxurious 2- and 3-bedroom residences featuring dark hickory hardwood floor surrounding the rink.

HVC members and guests enjoy daily continental breakfast, concierge services, ski and bike valet, priority tee times at two golf courses, plus access to Tahoe Mountain Club restaurants.

Perhaps the biggest amenity is the convenience to everything the Lake Tahoe area has to offer.

LOTS OF AMENITIES

Northstar Lodge also offers two whirlpool spas on-site, fire pit, indoor/outdoor games, plus a fully equipped theater.

“Without question, kids love that theater. It’s a big deal to watch a movie with the entire family at night,” Kunkel says.

Another amenity is The Village Swim & Fitness Center, a private facility steps from the resort, offering state-of-the-art fitness, Junior Olympic pool, heated lap pool, kiddie pool, zero-depth splash pad and whirlpool spas.

Perhaps the biggest amenity is the convenience to everything the Lake Tahoe area has to offer.

“People love the accessibility,” Kunkel says. “They also love the familiarity of this resort. They know they’re getting something special every time they visit.”

GAMES & ACTIVITIES Northstar Lodge is ushering in a heightened level of fun, excitement and exclusive privileges that can only be found at this premier year-round destination resort.

RENOVATIONS & UPGRADES

'Home' improvement

Renovations and upgrades all across HVC make each resort more inviting

Over the past several months, renovations and improvements at Hyatt Vacation Club and Hyatt Residence Club resorts have been completed with the satisfaction of members in mind. Whether you're returning to your home resort or trading your points for entirely new vacation experience, here are some of the new features that you will enjoy.

WILD OAK RANCH: A 1,000-sq.-ft. herringbone wood deck alongside the Rattlesnake River pool is the newest hot spot at the resort, providing extra space for relaxation as well as a gathering spot for live music fans. The deck is adjacent to the River Bar, which serves beverages and snacks.

BEACH HOUSE: Master baths in all units now include new shower enclosures with handy shower caddies. In addition, master and guest bedrooms now feature iHome clock/radios that allow users to charge iPods and iPhones, and also play stored music through the device's speaker system. On the resort grounds, new lighting has been added at the pool for guests who wish to swim in the evening. And on the east end of the beach, the Key West phenomenon of bocce ball has a new home with the addition of a bocce court.

COCONUT PLANTATION: Extensive upgrades

in all units include new carpeting and living room area rugs, new bedding (comforters and pillows) and new sleeper sofas. Each new sofa, manufactured by American Leather, includes a built-in mattress and headboard. In addition, living room chairs in 1- and 2-bedroom units have been reupholstered.

HIGHLANDS INN: The luxurious Hyatt Grand Bed® is the centerpiece of in-room upgrades, which also include new bedding to complement the overall room décor. Other additions include new carpeting and wallcoverings, American Leather sofas and upholstered chairs in living areas and LCD flat-screen televisions. In addition, two new laundry facilities have been added.

HACIENDA DEL MAR: New kitchen appliances, patio furniture, area rugs and laundry centers are highlights of the updates, which also include LCD flat-screen televisions in the living areas of each unit. Resort staff has also completed an extensive interior painting project.

MAIN STREET STATION: Starting with studios on the first floor and continuing with second-floor studios, kitchens have been remodeled to accommodate a larger refrigerator. Also, the corridor between Hyatt Main Street Station and the Grand Central Building has been completed.

New from Interval International

Turn one vacation into several with ShortStay Exchange

Interval International is always looking for new ways to improve your membership, and many of you have told us you want more flexibility — especially as it pertains to the length of your exchange vacations. Families have hectic schedules, and may not be able to get away for an entire week, so we heard you loud and clear when you said that you want the chance to escape for shorter, more frequent vacations.

You can choose from as few as two to as many as six nights.

With that in mind, Interval International has launched ShortStay Exchange, which is offered exclusively to Interval Gold members, and only at IntervalWorld.com.

HOW IT WORKS

Sign in at IntervalWorld.com, click the Exchange tab, then click the My Units button. Next, click the ShortStay Exchange button to the right of the unit that you would like to redeem. Then, search for available destinations and dates. There's even a handy ShortStay Exchange Points Chart that tells you how many points you will need per night, based on unit size and the day of check-in.

When you find something you like, you can choose from as few as two to as many as six nights — it's your decision! When you receive a confirmation, the points will be deducted from your account. You can make as many ShortStay Exchanges as your available points allow.*

TO JOIN INTERVAL GOLD

ShortStay Exchange offers tremendous travel flexibility, but you have to be an Interval Gold member to enjoy this benefit. To upgrade or renew, visit IntervalWorld.com, or call 800.GO.HYATT today.

*Each ShortStay Exchange requires payment of the applicable Interval International exchange fee.

Another happy convert

'Poster boy for anti-timeshare' now a proud owner at two Hyatt Vacation Club Resorts

Ric Frederick, 59, was once the self-described "poster boy for anti-timeshare."

That is, until he and his wife Holly, 59, vacationed in 2004 at Hyatt Coconut Point Resort & Spa in Bonita Springs, Florida. While there, a representative of the adjacent Hyatt Coconut Plantation Resort offered a dining gift at any of the Coconut Point resort's signature restaurants if the couple agreed to attend a Hyatt Vacation Club presentation.

A DIFFERENT CONCEPT

"I'd heard the horror stories about timeshares with their come-on promotions and the idea just didn't appeal to me," he says. But after being assured vacation ownership was a very different concept and there would be no pressure, he relented.

"The guy caught me at a weak moment. The only reason I did it was to take the $150 for dinner." Later that day, he found himself in the Coconut Plantation sales center ready for battle. "They should have filmed me," he adds. "I'm sitting at the table across from the gentleman with my arms folded. 'Okay, your 90 minutes starts now. Go.'"

As the presentation went on, it totally changed his views about vacation ownership, he says. The certainty of a deeded unit and week, the luxury of the units, plus the flexibility of converting weeks to points for almost unlimited vacation possibilities seemed like a great deal. "If you really want to work the points, it's amazing what you can do.

"All of a sudden, I'm leaning across the table, 'Really, you can do that?' he says. "The program they described fit us perfectly, the locations, the flexibility and, of course, the quality of the unit itself."

AWARD WINNING DESTINATIONS

After sleeping on it and verifying the numbers on his calculator, the next morning the Fredericks were owners of Week #2 at Coconut Plantation. They also were thrilled to learn Highlands Inn, a Hyatt Hotel and Vacation Club Resort in Carmel, Calif., was one of the club's award-winning destinations.

"Carmel is probably one of my favorite spots on Earth, and that was the first actual trade (for points) we made," Frederick says. The couple booked a stay in October 2004, and fell in love with an end unit on the top floor offering panoramic ocean views. When they later learned another owner had upgraded to a larger unit and Week #46 in that unit was available, they just couldn't resist making a second vacation ownership purchase in March 2005.

"We bought it sight unseen," he says. "When they informed us it was available, I said, 'Done!' The two units we own offer very different experiences, but the same Hyatt quality and hospitality," he says.

The couple later added their son Kyle, 30, as co-owner at both properties to give him the advantages of ownership as well as the flexibility to plan his own getaways. The family uses the HyattVacationClub.com website to make reservations and track points, but also loves the ease of calling 1-800-GO-HYATT when making travel plans.

PROUD OWNER

Going from "poster boy for anti-timeshare" to proud owner at two Hyatt Vacation Club resorts was an easy transition for him personally and for his extended family, Ric Frederick says. From family get-togethers to vacation stays for wedding and anniversary gifts, vacation ownership has become central to bringing friends and family together.

"What I've found vacation ownership does, is it makes you take the time. If you took that same money and simply invested it, I'm convinced we wouldn't take the vacation time (together)," he says. "Vacation ownership is an investment in your family. It has created some phenomenal memories for our family and friends."

Although there are many competing vacation products in Florida, the couple chose Hyatt because of the quality and hospitality, he says.

"Every time we drive down (to Coconut Plantation) and find ourselves on the road leading to the resort, my wife goes, 'We're home.'"

Her work is never Dunn

Sheri Dunn, concierge at Hyatt Grand Aspen

Sheri Dunn is the epitome of what a concierge should be, says Vic Giannelli, resort manager at Hyatt Grand Aspen. “She is a major reason why our members tell us they feel like they are coming home when they come to Hyatt Grand Aspen.”

Claudine Grondin, Hyatt Grand Aspen’s assistant front office manager, agrees, “Sheri makes the environment more relaxing. She is always smiling and has a way of making the owners and guests feel special.”

Get to know Sheri Dunn...

How long have you worked with Hyatt Vacation Club?

I have worked as a concierge at the Hyatt Grand Aspen since November 2005, before it opened. We helped with staging the rooms and did pre-arrival calls for guests and owners arriving during the holiday season.

Why did you decide to work in the hospitality industry?

In Aspen, the hospitality industry can be very lucrative. I stayed in the industry because I actually like people. It’s cheesy, but true. I tried an office job thinking I needed a “real job,” but I didn’t like it.

If you were giving advice to co-workers and other HVC employees, what tips would you suggest to make every experience satisfying for members?

I tried to think of some meaningful advice, but simple things mean a lot: Smile. Doing small tasks or gestures can sometimes make a huge difference in a guest’s stay. And, occasionally, people just want to be heard. I asked my 6-year-old son, Riley, how he would make guests happy. He said “I would do whatever they want, except jump into lava.”

GRAND ADVENTURES

Sheri Dunn has been helping guests enjoy their stays at Hyatt Grand Aspen ever since the resort opened in 2005.

Sounds simple!

What’s your most memorable episode of helping an HVC member enjoy his/her vacation?

It’s fun to help plan birthdays and other special occasions. Once we found “Father Frost,” the Russian Santa, for a group of Doing small tasks or gestures can sometimes make a huge difference in a guest’s stay.

— Sheri Dunn, Concierge, Hyatt Grand Aspen

Russian guests staying with us during the holidays. He was a Father-Frost lookalike who worked at the Aspen airport. I think the adults were as excited as the kids.

Where do you spend your time off in Aspen?

When I get a chance to, I go on hikes. One of my favorites is the American Lake Trail. Recently, I was able to hike to Crested Butte—it’s a gorgeous hike.

If you could spend a week at any HVC resort, which one would it be and why?

I plan on someday seeing the oceanfront Highlands Inn resort in Carmel. The California coast is beautiful, and I’d like to explore it more. The town of Carmel looks very quaint. I would love to go during a wine festival.

YOUR POINTS GO FAR HVC's Wild Oak Ranch (left), Windward Pointe and Highlands Inn are just three options for the vacation of a lifetime.

HOW TO USE YOUR POINTS

Hyatt Vacation Club Resorts Points System

It is never too soon to start planning your vacation. The points associated with your fixed week actually become available one year prior to your fixed week. And the HVC reservation system is so flexible, if you cannot make plans that far out, you still have several options that allow you to reserve accommodations right up to the last minute.

Many members find that reserving their unit and week of purchase becomes a tradition. So each year they call during their Home Resort Preference Period (HRPP) to let us know they will be returning to their home resort on their week of purchase. Remember, while the HRPP window lets us hold your fixed week exclusively for you, HVC does not make the reservation for you. Your HRPP also expires six months prior to your fixed week.

To make any other type of reservation, you will be converting your fixed week to points. In doing so, here are a few things to consider:

When do you want to travel?

Consult the reservation calendars, which reflect the dates for Friday, Saturday and Sunday arrivals. Be sure to confirm the day and date of arrival for your selected week, because each year the calendar varies by a few days.

How many points are in your account?

As you pass through each reservation window, a statement is mailed or emailed, explaining the reservation window and number of points in your account. You also can see your statement in real time online anytime at HyattVacationClub.com.

To determine point values, locate the destination of choice on the "Season Week" chart, look to the week you intend to travel, then go to the "Point Values" chart for the unit size. This will tell you how many points are needed for a reservation. If you travel in off seasons, you can often make two or more reservations from one allotment of points. Charts are available online in the Member's Clubhouse.

Options outside HVC

Beyond HVC resorts, Interval International is an option during your HRPP or your Club Use Period. This allows you to use all or any portion of points toward exchanges at any Interval International resort worldwide. Every day, Interval members exchange travel weeks, which means availabilities change daily. (Call 1-800-GO HYATT for updates.)

Unsure of your travel plans and considering destinations outside HVC? You have the option of using the Extended External Exchange Program (EEEE). Members may commit all or any portion of their fixed week or float points to the EEEP for the purpose of exchange through Interval International to non-HVC Resorts for two years. Fixed points must be converted into the program four months before their deeded week commences. Once points are transferred to the EEEP, they cannot be returned to an HVC account. Float points (all or any portion) can be moved to the EEEP during the HRPP float window.

The Hyatt Gold Passport Exchange Program (GPEP) is another option currently available every other year during your Home Resort Preference Period. This requires that you move your entire fixed week and/or float point balance to the Hyatt GPEP. You can make as many reservations or redeem as many Hyatt Gold Passport Awards as your points will allow at Hyatt Hotels & Resorts worldwide.

For reservations or information about reservation windows and booking procedures, call 1-800-GO HYATT. Usage of the Hyatt Gold Passport Program is subject to the program terms and conditions.

Hyatt Vacation Club Resorts Points Chart

Club points have been assigned to reflect the anticipated reservation power and demand for each unit week in the system. You will use your points to access the reservation system and confirm all club reservations. At your option, you can convert to points as early as the first day of the Home Resort Preference Period, giving yourself a full year to shop the club for suitable reservations. If you elect to use your deeded unit and week, you must call 1-800-GO-HYATT,® during the Home Resort Preference Period, and there will be no club points assigned for that year. All other reservation confirmations require a conversion to points.

FRIENDS & FAMILY

Share the Hyatt experience with friends and earn rewards

Save with HVC's 'Share the Wealth' referral program

As an HVC member, you can save on your annual maintenance fee by participating in the "Share the Wealth" referral program at participating locations.

Simply share the names of the people who you think would find Hyatt Vacation Club as special as you do, and start earning credits toward your annual maintenance fee.

Like you, your friends appreciate and deserve a quality vacation—why not let them enjoy a taste of Hyatt luxury?

You can email an invitation directly to your friends, or have Hyatt Vacation Club mail an invitation.

Referrals who accept your vacation offer must attend a 90-minute HVC presentation.

For eligibility requirements, refer to the Details, Terms & Conditions of the Share the Wealth packet you received either in the mail or when you became a Hyatt Vacation Club member.

Call 1-800-869-1720 for additional materials or more information.

How it works

SEND YOUR FRIENDS AN EMAIL INVITATION

This new option has proven to be the most effective way for owners to invite their friends and provide referrals because the email invitation is coming directly from you! Request your email invitation by one of the following methods:

- E-MAIL: Send us an email at referrals@HyattVacationClub.com
- PHONE: Simply call us at 1-800-869-1720
- SHARE THE WEALTH REFERRAL PROGRAM —
MONTHLY EMAIL: Each month, Hyatt Vacation Club will email you an exclusive "Share the Wealth" referral program invitation, which will allow you to request an email invitation that you can forward to your friends and family.

HAVE US MAIL YOUR FRIENDS AN INVITATION

Or if you prefer, we can mail your friends an invitation on your behalf. Here are ways to provide us with the names and mailing information for your friends:

- WEBSITE: Visit us at www.HyattVacationClub.com
- E-MAIL: Send us an email at referrals@HyattVacationClub.com
- BUSINESS REPLY CARD: Complete and return the card included in the "Share the Wealth" referral program kit you received either in the mail or when you first became a Hyatt Vacation Club member.
- PHONE: Simply call us at 1-800-869-1720

Reservation reminders

Replace 'snail mail' reservation window reminders with automated email alerts arriving 60, 30 and 15 days before the close of each window

Hyatt Vacation Club has unveiled a handy new online e-notification tool at HyattVacationClub.com that lets you change your preference for reservation notifications to email instead of the U.S. Postal Service.

You can find this preference selection in the "Member Profile" section of the secure Member's Clubhouse area. Under the "Communication Preferences" heading, see "Permission to receive Hyatt Vacation Club account summary by email."

ACCESS ANYWHERE

Select "yes" and replace the letter reminder that is mailed at the beginning of a reservation window with email communications you can access virtually anywhere.

The communication preferences also give HVC permission to send marketing alerts so you can be first in line for new listings and availabilities.

Additional choices allow the team at your home resort to keep you well informed.

The email alert system was a response to requests for more timely and frequent notifications as owners move through reservation windows. Surveys showed owners often misplace paper statements and later recall the need to make plans only after a notice arrives telling them the next reservation window has begun.

Beginning with the start of the Home Resort Preference Period, the email alert system explains everything you need to know about reserving your deeded week within the reservation window.

The email also explains your options for converting all or a portion of your week to points you can use to reserve available units at HVC resorts, exchange through Interval International, or commit to the Hyatt Gold Passport Program every other year.

In case you forget to reserve your week or convert to points, reminder emails are delivered 60, 30 and 15 days before the end of each window, giving you opportunities to make choices before the window closes.

REMINDER EMAILS

If you convert your week or any portion to points, follow-up emails guide you through the reservation process and options available during the Club Use Period (CUP), Limited Club Use Period (LCUP) and Extended External Exchange Program (EEEP). Reminder emails are delivered 60, 30 and 15 days before the end of each window.

If your week includes floating points, a similar series of timed emails explains how you can use float points for each window.

Because HVC respects your privacy, only you can authorize HVC to contact you via the new email alert system.

If you have not yet logged on, or have lost your ID and password to the Member's Clubhouse, email support@HyattVacationClub.com or call 1-800-GO-HYATT.
